2023-2024

St. Mary's University campus sits on Land that has a deep relational history and ongoing presence with the Indigenous Peoples who have called this place home since time immemorial, the Siksikaitapiti the Blackfoot Confederacy: the Siksika, the Kainai, the Piikani and the Umskappi Piikani. Moh'kin'tsis is also home to the Tsuut'ina peoples, a Dene people who travelled from the North and were signatories to Treaty 7 alongside the Iyârhe Nakoda Peoples, the Chiniki, Wesley and Bearspaw First Nations. This place is also home to the Métis Nation of Alberta, a proud post-contact Nation formed from the union of First Nations families and European Settlers.

As an academic institution, we have a responsibility to honour these long-standing, and ongoing relationships to Land, and to learn how we can become good relatives here.

INDIGENOUS INITIATIVES

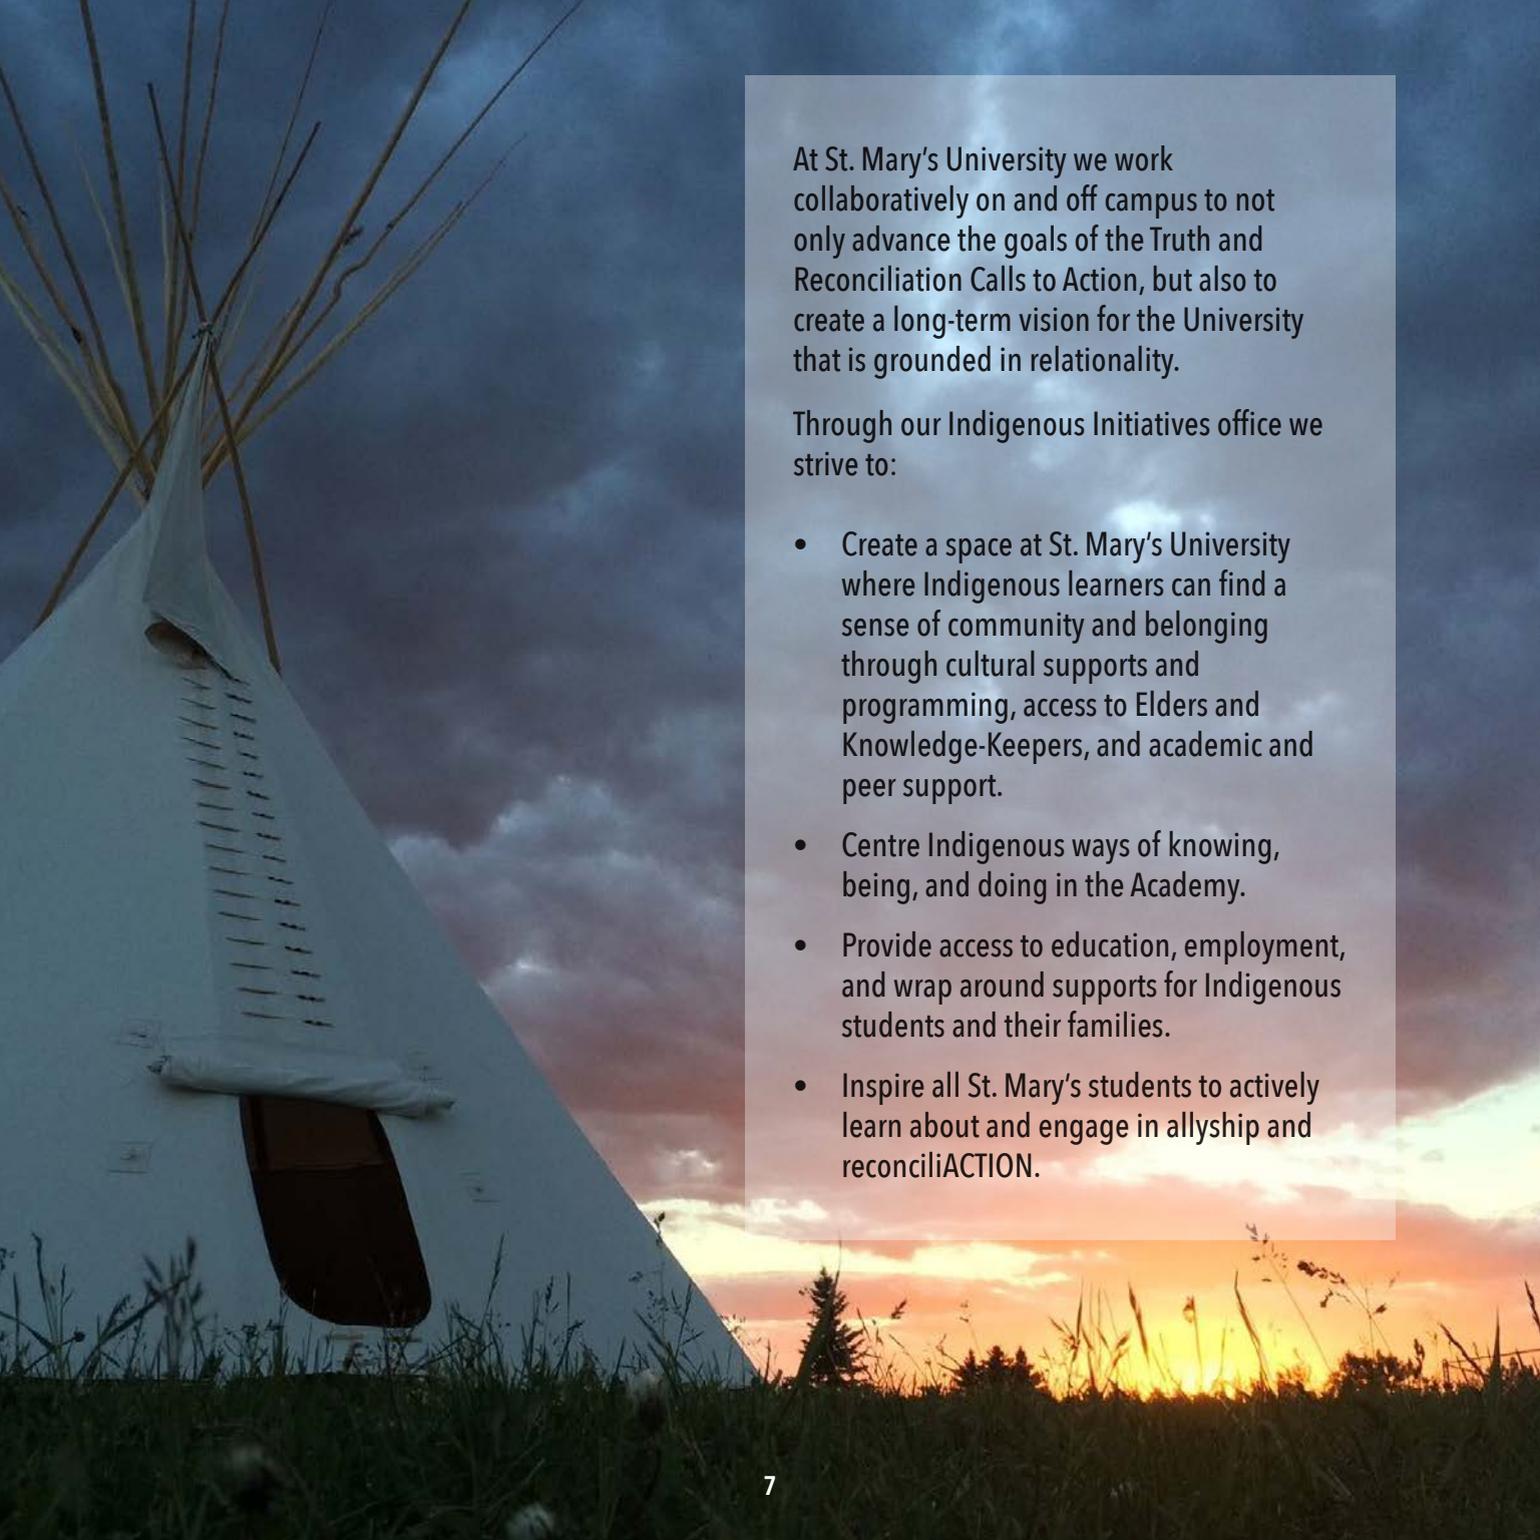

“The Indigenous Initiatives office helped me stay connected to my culture as well as being a supportive entity within the University towards my educational journey. Under this program, monthly meetings with Elders and having a space to smudge is a vital aspect for an Indigenous learner. Creating additional workshops, such as Beading, Bannock and Banter, inspired the teacher in me to also create an aura of inclusivity for all students both Indigenous and non-Indigenous at St. Mary’s to come together in community to talk, share and build relationships. I am now looking forward to the next step on my journey of becoming a teacher in the Bachelor of Education after degree program at StMU.”

– Angela Bear Chief, BA General Studies, Class of 2022

A smudging ceremony on campus

- Centre Indigenous ways of knowing, being, and doing in the Academy.
- Provide access to education, employment, and wrap around supports for Indigenous students and their families.

While graduates will be prepared to teach in a K-6 or 7-12 program in any school, public or private, faith-based or secular, the program is particularly focused on preparing teachers to teach in Catholic schools in Alberta and beyond.

"The beauty of the education program at StMU is the extensive practicum experience we are offered. This practicum grows in responsibility each term and by the end of the 26 weeks we are ready to take on our own classroom full-time. We have been blessed in this program to not only practically and theoretically learn about the teaching profession but also extensively learn how to be an excellent Catholic educator no matter what school board we end up in. We are taught to have a strong focus on building relationships with our students, parents, and all staff. We are taught about the common good and how to fight for social justice. FAQs

What is the competitive average for a program?

Students who meet the admission requirements in Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science programs are guaranteed admission. The Bachelor of Education program is competitive, please see page 38 – Admission Requirements.

What are my options if I don't meet the admissions requirements for full admission?

You may be eligible for a Special Admission. Special Admission is granted when students:

- Are missing 1 of the 5 required courses (not including English 30-1 or a program-specific course requirement) and have an average of 65% or higher on their other 4 courses.
- Have an average of 60 - 64.9% on the 5 required courses.

A Special Admission allows a student to start their university studies at St. Mary's with a limited course load of 3 courses (9 credits). Students admitted on a Special Admission must achieve a minimum of a 2.0 GPA in their first term and attend four Success Seminars to continue their studies at St. Mary's.

Will my previous post-secondary credit transfer over?

Many of our students come from other post-secondary institutions and have received transfer credit. We are members of the Alberta Council on Admissions and Transfer (ACAT) and once you have applied, your application will be assessed for transfer credit.

How do you apply for early admission?

St. Mary's does not have an early admission process. Students can apply as early as October 1st, with applications being accepted on a continuing basis.

FAQs

I'm still in high school or upgrading courses, so I don't have a final grade for my Grade 12 classes yet. Can I still apply?

Yes! The admissions team can make a conditional offer of admission based on final grades in courses you've completed and mid-term/predicted grades for courses you are/will be taking. Your admission offer will be conditional until all of your final, official grades/transcripts are received and all of your admission conditions are met. The conditions you must meet to receive final admission will be outlined in your offer of admission letter.

Do I have to be Catholic to attend St. Mary's University?

This is a common question we get – the answer is no! Our students are from many different religious and non-religious backgrounds. We welcome all people. The Catholic Intellectual Tradition recognizes that the search for truth is enhanced by one's understanding of the ethical and spiritual dimensions of life and knowing that faith itself must be informed by intelligence. It means that we are focused on the formation of the whole person – mind, body, and spirit. We seek to create thoughtful and compassionate citizens who are able to respond with sensitivity and creativity to changing social needs and cultural realities.
